

A short list of hotels within easy reach

Please note that we haven't stayed in any of these hotels and cannot personally vouch for them. However they have all been used by our clients, and have received positive reviews from them.

The Church Street Hotel

Nestling in the heart of Camberwell, just down the road from Ubiq, is this small boutique hotel, newly revamped and based around a Latin American/Spanish Hacienda theme. Check out the website for details and pictures. Reports have been very good, and they do a lovely organic breakfast. There's also a good quality spanish restaurant for evening meals.

<http://www.churchstreethotel.com/>

London Bridge Hotel

This one comes highly recommended from a client who stayed for three nights. It's right next to London Bridge station, so the journey time to Ubiq (East Dulwich) is a short train ride - around 11 minutes.

<http://www.londonbridgehotel.com>

Premier Travel Inn Metro London County Hall

This hotel is situated in Waterloo; to get to Ubiq you will need to catch the train from Waterloo East to London Bridge, then to East Dulwich. Journey time should be around 20 minutes depending on connections.

<http://www.premierinn.com>

Myhotel Bloomsbury

This hotel was also recommended by one of our clients - myhotel Bloomsbury. It's based in the centre of town and has a Feng Shui approach to it's decor, a beautiful fish tank, and the service is good. The journey time to Ubiq is longer. Allow around an hour. To get Ubiq you would catch the tube to Charing Cross and then 2 British Rail trains; one to London Bridge and then London Bridge to East Dulwich.

<http://www.myhotels.co.uk/bloomsbury/default.aspx>

Bromley Court Hotel

This was recommended by some teachers from Bristol.

Bromley Court Hotel, Bromley Hill Bromley Kent BR1 4JD

<http://www.bw-bromleycourthotel.co.uk>

Novotel Waterloo

Take a train from Waterloo East (inside Waterloo station) to London Bridge. The London Bridge to East Dulwich. Journey time 30 mins.

<http://www.milesfaster.co.uk/london-hotels/novotel-london-waterloo.htm>

Rose Hotel

Take a train from Waterloo East (inside Waterloo station) to London Bridge, then London Bridge to East Dulwich. Journey time 30 mins.

<http://www.london-se1.co.uk/hotels/southwarkrose.html>